

How do you experience grief alongside celebration during the holidays?

When have the holidays been particularly difficult for you?

Read Revelation 22:1-5. What comfort does this scripture bring you for today? For this next year?

How do you see God's desire described in this passage at work in your life now?

How do you pray for your neighbors in light of this passage?

How easy is it for you to trust that you are known and loved by God? What might make this difficult at times?

How do you experience the light of Christ? Where do you need the light of Christ to warm you?

Who in your life needs to experience the light of Christ and how can you shine Christ's light to them?