

What emotions stir in you as you think about addressing hard questions?

Pluralism is not relativism. What does it mean to live in a pluralistic society?

Where have you seen relativism in your context?

Luke 18:9-14. How does your prayer life lean toward that of the Pharisee and/or the tax collector?

Where does your life bump up against the culture's acceptance of sexual freedom? How do you respond in that place?

How do your relationships reflect God's affirmation that we should not be alone? How do you cultivate community for those around you?
